

How would you like your children to be saints and go to Heaven?

In the game of the Holy Quest, they can do just that. There is a brand new Catholic board game made for the whole family. Traditio Designs has developed a new game that will help Catholic families teach and preserve our faith in young Catholics of all age groups.

This new game is both educational and entertaining. It introduces the concept of religious orders and children are real famous saints in the game. There are also elements of chance, strategy and collaboration. This game has five different ways to play the game and is designed to entertain children from 5 years old all the way to late teens. Parents and grandparents can play with their kids and grandkids, and the whole family can have great Catholic fun. The game is also perfect for homeschooling families.

If you like the sound of that, we ask you to visit the game website at www.theholyquest.us

and help us get this game produced and get it into the hands of countless Catholic children.

This game uses real photographs of stained glass from churches around the world and nothing like it has ever been done before.

In the game, kids are actual saints and they have to get them into Heaven. The game is very entertaining, easy to learn and educational at the same time. It also promotes teamwork among kids. Since The Holy Quest offers multiple ways to play, it does not get boring over time and appeals to younger kids and teenagers.

So how can you participate and help?
